REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

Passed Off Last Saturday

Than Any Election Ever Held
in Knox County.

Sampson Led the Ticket by an Enormous Majority, While Some of the Races were Rather Close

Lay and Parker Both Proved to be Good Runners in their Respective Races.

For more than six months there has been a campaign waged in this county for the nomination for the various county offices to be filled next year. And from the beginning there has been more or less interest in many of the races.

The County Judge's race seemed to overshadow everything else on account of the prominence and strength of the various candidates who were before the people.

There were four men announced for that position, as follows: Judge J. S. Miller, as a candidate to succeed himself, ex-Judge T. J. Wyatt, who had twice before been elected to that position, was again seeking the honor; Rev. J. T. Stamper, who is well-known throughout the county as a Baptist preacher, and Flem D. Sampson, one of the leading attorneys of the bar, and who was defeated four years ago by a very few votes for this office.

From the beginning the contest was hot, and when the series of speakings begun every man began to measure up his strength. It soon became apparent that Mr. Sampson had the strongest following, and then it became necessary to resort to some plan by which his strength, if possible, might be overcome. An agreement was reached between Judge Miller and Judge Wyatt in which Wyatt was to withdraw from the race in the interest of Miller. This was done on Tuesday night before the election. Then the fight was between Miller and Sampson, and much interest was kept up until the polls were closed on Saturday afternoon.

The race for County Attorney between W. R. Lay and J. H. Catron was hotly contested, and while Lay carried every precinct in the county, yet his opponent put up a strong fight, and at times had Mr. Lay uneasy as to his chances.

In the race for Superintendent Mr. Parker seemed to have the advantage of his opponent, Mr. Hignite, who is now the Superintendent, and the vote shows the great inroads he made upon him throughout the county.

The Sheriff's race closed out just as everyone predicted, with D. H. Williams far in the lead, while Dozier and Early were both left far in the rear.

The County Clerk's race was a very hot and close one. Mr. Siler looked like a winner, and Judge Bain realizing that he would be defeated, quit the race and left Smith and McDonald to fight it out against Siler. It was several days before the result was known, and it was not fully determined whether Smith or Siler was the nominee until the official count was made.

WILLIE McDONALD,
Who made such a gallant race for County Court Clerk.

The Jailor's race was about an equal to the Clerk's, as it required the official count to determine whether Buchanan or Mitchell had won. The other candidates, Harbin and Parker, being distanced in their race.

The Assessor's race was rather interesting, but Hammons seemed to have the lead, and Rev. Mr. Allen followed in hearing distance, while Rev. Mr. Humfleet and Thomas C. Parrott got lost in the fog and have not been heard of since.

M. G. HIGNITE,
Who was defeated for re-election
for Superintendent of Public Schools.

The Surveyor and Coroner's races did not attract much attention, but it was generally conceded that Westerfield would be the surveyor, while everyone was equally as confident of the election of Hiram Yearly as coronor.

The contest reminded us more of the Breckinridge-Owens contest for congressional honors in 7th district ten years ago, than anything we have ever witnessed.

While Knox county claims to be a local option county we feel sure, if all reports be true, that there was more whisky used here than we ever saw used anywhere before, even where they have open saloons, besides money was no item, but was used with a lavish hand.

It is a disgrace to the fair name of our county to think that the offices should be secured in such a manner. We hope that such a scene as that witnessed in this county will never be repeated again, but that the good people will see to it that men worthy of the offices are nominated and elected without the use of money and whisky hereafter.

NOTES.

And the next day it snowed.

The candidates all believe now in the virtue of printer's ink.

Has anyone heard from Upper Stinking yet?

Some of the boys are wearing long faces since Saturday night.

Chris Smith feels better since the count was made.

Some of our Democratic friends make good workers in Republican primaries.

No fights occurred anywhere in the county, although there was plenty of "booze."

We regret that all the candidates could not be elected, as they were all deserving of the office to which they aspired.

"Tip" Westerfield thinks his certificate saved him from defeat by being published in these columns.

W. R. Lay says that he feels good toward everybody in Knox county.

"Uncle" Hiram Yearly says it is all a joke, that he never had any opponent.

REV. J. T. STAMPER,
One of the defeated candidates for County Judge.

Flem D. Sampson got scared six months ago and has not stopped running yet.

Garrett Hignite has not been seen since the cyclone struck here Saturday.

It is claimed that Judge Miller also ran.

GEORGE E. BRETZ,
One who was defeated for Magistrate in the First Magisterial District.

Mr. Bretz says he will just go on cutting beef as in the past.

The weather was inclement, but the voters came out just the same.

Nathan Parker says he would cry if he was alone, but he has plenty of company in the same condition as himself.

Tom Parrott never has come to town to learn if he received any votes since the election.

PROF. J. M. RONSTON,
A leading figure in local politics.
He announced some time ago for the office of County Judge and later withdrew his name.

We lost part of our vote as some of the candidates were defeated but we believe the candidates are taking it harder than we are, the look like it at least.

Chris Harbin still wears the blue overalls and takes his defeat in a good humored manner.

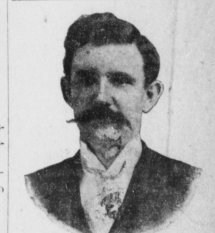

Judge Wyatt stepped from under just before the crash came. He was lucky.

Willie McDonald says he is thankful that his votes were no less, but would like to of had more.

John Allen says he wanted to be Assessor, that was what he was running for, but George Hammons gets the job.

Baptist preachers make good runners as shown by the record of Revs. Humfleet and Stamper.

The prediction of Judge Parker's success was as earnest as predictions for crawling out last place by the Washington team.

It was the first campaign Mr. Cortelyou ever managed. What will the result be when he becomes a veteran?

It was cruel in Arthur Pue not to tell Grandpa Davis just what sort of a surprise his predicted surprise would be.

Mr. MURPHY calmly points to the fact that if he couldn't elect Parker, Parker couldn't dislodge Tammany.

AFTER all, this is one country, with one flag and one object—the great good to the greatest number.

OUR in Missouri they are singing John Hay's Pike county ballads as a testimonial of good faith.

OF course, Tammany will throw all its law business to the firm of Hill & Parker.

MISSOURI, with a Republican in the Senate, will begin to feel somewhat at home.

Francis Rees can't understand why it was that Tip Westerfield got more votes than himself. He thought everybody would vote for him.

Nimrod Nelson was against the real thing when he tackled Hiram Yeary as he is an old stager.

W. R. Lay carried every precinct in the county over John H. Catron and received the largest vote of any man on the ticket.

Judge G. P. Bain got two votes even if he did quit before the race started. If he had of gone on he might have gotten some more.

Its only four years until we will try this over again. Boys cheer up it won't be long to wait, and then think, the fun we will have when we will start again. Your experience this time will be worth something to you next time.

The Official count.

Last Tuesday afternoon the County Committee met in this city and proceeded to canvass the returns of the Primary Election held last Saturday.

A roll call showed ten of the thirteen members present. There being a quorum present the chairman stated that the purpose of the meeting was to count the Election returns, and the precinct were then taken up in their order beginning with No. 1 and going on through to the last.

W. B. Disney the Secretary of the Committee was assisted in the count by Circuit Clerk J. R. Jones and D. W. Clark, each one keeping a tally sheet and after all the figures were made out, a comparison was made of each one and a correct result was secured.

There is no doubt but what every candidate received just what was his

in the count and as a result everyone seems to be satisfied.

There were some of the races that were rather close but no trouble to tell who received the majority.

After the count had been made and carried that the Chairman and Secretary be instructed to issue certificates of nomination to the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in all the various offices after which the meeting adjourned.

Hydrophobia Cure.

Col. R. J. Breckinridge gives the following as a sure cure for hydrophobia:

Some years ago I cut out of a daily paper the following prevention of hydrophobia, and only a few days after I was bitten by a dog on the street, supposed to have been mad. I at once prepared and used it and never felt any evil effects from it. Since then I have had it published repeatedly and had many to use it with good results. It is known as the "Goodman Remedy" and was printed in the Country Gentleman of Philadelphia, and reads as follows:

"The time between the biting of an animal by a mad dog and showing signs of hydrophobia is not less than nine days, but may be nine months. After the animal has become rabid a scratch of the tooth upon a person, or a slobber coming in contact with a sore or raw place, will produce hydrophobia just as soon as if bitten by a mad dog. Hydrophobia can be prevented, and I will give what is well known as an infallible remedy for man or beast if properly administered. A dose for a horse or cow should be four times as much as a person. It is not too late to give the medicine any time before the spasms come on. The dose for a person is one and one-half ounces of Elecampane Root bruised but in a pint of new milk, reduced one-half by boiling; take all at once in the morning; fasting till the afternoon, or at least a very light diet, till after several hours have elapsed. The second dose as first, except take two ounces of the root. Third same as second. To be taken every other day. Three doses are all that is needed.

ed, and there need be no fear, as I know from my own experience, and know of a number of cases where it was entirely successful. This is no guess work, the persons alluded to have been bitten by their own dogs which were then tied to see if they were really mad, and they proved to be so, and the remedy was effectual. A physician told me that he had known of its use for over 30 years, and never knew it to fail, where properly administered. He related a case where a number of cows were bitten and penned half in one pen and a half in another; to half were saved, the other half all dying from the dreadful hydrophobia."

A CARD.

Barbourville, Ky., Nov. 15, 1904.

To My Friends and Fellow Republicans of Knox County:

I desire to state that the good people of the county gave me a large majority in my race for County Judge, and for this I am deeply grateful.

When I assume the duties of the office, if I live to do so, I shall endeavor to make a good official and to serve the people faithfully. It is my desire that I may be able to be of lasting benefit to the county and the whole people. My friends will find me the same as ever—ready always to aid them. I trust that my future conduct will be such as to merit the confidence placed in me by the people of the county.

Thanking my friends, one and all, for their faithful efforts in my behalf, and assuring those who fought against me, that I bear no ill will, I beg to remain

Yours very truly,
FLEM D. SAMPSON.

The attempt of Democrats in the Ninth district to steal the congressional election from the Hon. J. B. Bennett will be watched with interest. The stealing in the Third district will be watched with scorn.

If the Hon. Tom Watson can mix votes in anything like the facility with which he emits words, he is already elected President in 1908 with a plurality unlimited.

FOLLOWING the example of President Roosevelt, Carter Harrison announces that he will not be again a candidate for Mayor—and Chicago is weeping violently.

LOCALS.

Bring in your samples of corn.

The woods are full of hunters.

Don't forget the corn proposition.

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving.

Hunters have been busy for the past few days.

Turkey promise to be scarce for Thanksgiving.

If you want one of the cash prizes bring in your corn.

Only a few more days until the World's Fair will close.

Let's all settle down now to making a living and quit talking politics for awhile.

The hunting season is open and you have the liberty to kill all the birds you can find.

A little ad in the ADVOCATE may bring you big results. Try it and be convinced.

The first snow of the season fell last Sunday morning, covering the ground for a short time.

You have been bragging about that fine corn you raised this year, bring in a sample and get a prize on it.

There were a number of disappointments in the campaign, but, of course, they could not all be elected.

Hurry up with your samples of corn; the time will soon be up and you will not get in if you don't hurry.

Our country editors have all taken a holiday this week and let us all alone to supply the news. Send us the news.

A number of leading capitalists interested in the Walden Oil Co., of Indiana, were here this week investigating the oil situation.

Now that the election is over we hope that the matter of improving our county roads and putting them in proper condition, for winter will not be overlooked.

A number of Barbourville people went up to Artimus Wednesday evening to attend a box supper given by the Odd Fellows of that place. They returned that night.

Dr. R. I. Watkins, field agent for Union College, was in the city the latter part of last week and the earlier part of this. He reports prospects for the coming year good.

Don't forget that you only have two more weeks in which to bring in your corn samples. Several have already come with samples, and if you don't enter you will have no chance to win.

The Rev. Lawson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Henderson, Ky., arrived Tuesday afternoon, in connection with Rev. Terhune, is conducting a series of revival meetings at the Presbyterian church. The meetings will continue through next week.

The regular Thanksgiving services will be in the Presbyterian church, and the sermon will be preached by Rev. Lawson.

MILLER-CORNETT.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, on Main street, Wednesday morning, Miss Florence Miller, of this place, and Mr. Robert Cornett, of Harlan, were united in marriage.

The ceremony, which was private, and which was witnessed by only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties, was performed by Rev. Stratton, of the Methodist Episcopal church. The couple left on the 9:30 a. m. train for St. Louis, accompanied by the depot by a number of friends, where they will spend a few days, after which they will return to Barbourville for a few weeks.

Miss Florence was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, and is very popular. Mr. Cornett is an energetic business man of Harlan.

Ladies' Aid Society.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church opened a bazaar in the property formerly occupied by N. W. Plank, last Tuesday night, the 15th, and continuing three days or until all the articles are sold.

A doll contest will be one of the principle features. Refreshments will be served each evening. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

PERSONALS.

Col. F. P. Bent has returned from a visit to New York.

Judge Rose, of Williamsburg, was in this city last Saturday.

Dr. V. V. Anderson spent several days in Cincinnati last week.

C. A. Curd, of Williamsburg, was visiting friends here last Sunday.

Mrs. J. M. Riddell visited relatives at Corbin the earlier part of the week.

Flem D. Sampson left last Monday night for Louisville and will not return before Sunday.

Miss Alice Mayhew, formerly of this city, but now of Oklahoma, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Kate Ballard, who accompanied the remains of the late Mrs. Clelland to Danville, returned Monday.

Dr. R. I. Watkins left Wednesday night for his home in Covington, after a week's stay in our midst in the interest of Union College.

THE OLD HOME.

In the quiet shadows of twilight
I stand by the garden door
And gaze on the old, old homestead.
So cherished and loved of yore.
But the ivy is now twining
Untrained o'er window and wall;
And no more the voice of the child-
dren
Is echoing through the hall.

Through years of pain and sorrow,
Since first I had to part,
The thought of the dear old homestead
Has lingered around my heart:

The gable's drooping eaves,
And the song of the bird at twilight
Amid the orchard leaves.
And the forms of those who loved me

In the happy childhood years,
Appears at the dusky windows
Through the visions dimmed with tears.

I hear their voices calling
From the shadowy far away,
And I stretch my arms toward them
In the gloom of the twilight gray.

But only the night winds answer
As I cry through the dismal air:
And only the bat comes swooping
From the darkness of its lair.

But still the voice of my childhood
Is calling from far away,
And the face of those who loved me
Smile through the shadows gray.

HAVE we neglected or met the opportunities to do good? There may be starving minds as well as starving bodies, hungering and thirsting for knowledge, while there is no one to guide them in the search. We find many Martha's, "careful and troubled about many things" but not so many Mary's and Lydia's.

The mind is immortal, it must live on after the body body has decayed.
"Dust thou art to dust returnest,"
was not written of the soul, but,
unfortunately, some of us, we might say the majority of us, are so wrapped in business affairs and in the household and culinary duties, that the cultivation of the mind is sadly neglected. An idle brain is said to be Satan's own workshop. In the Bible—the best of books—we find the words, "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth
understanding, for the merchandise of it is better than silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold."

Good books are to the mind what the refreshing rains of spring are to the seeds which have lain dormant in the frost of winter. Through the medium of such literature as comes from the minds of the chaste writers we are better as well as wiser. They are sure to give your children something to read; it is as essential to the growth of their minds as food to the body. It is a fact that children were trained right from infancy so many would not be weeping for crimes God alone can blot out.

THE SUN SETS BEYOND THE DISTANT
hills but the trail of light he leaves
behind him guides the pilgrim to his distant home. The friend with whom we took sweet counsel is removed visibly from the outward eye; but
the lessons that he taught, the grand
sentiments that he uttered, the holy
deeds of generosity by which he was
characterized, the moral lineaments
and likeness of the man still survive
and appear in silence of eventide,
and on the tablets of memory, and
in the light of morn and noon and
dewy eve; and, being dead he yet
speaks eloquently, and in the midst
of us.

It is only the pure fountain that brings forth pure water. The good tree only produce the good fruit. If the center from which all proceeds is pure and holy, the radii of influence from it will be pure and holy also.
Go forth, then, into the spheres that you occupy, the employments, the trades, the professions of social life;
go forth into the high places or into the lowly places of the laud; mix with the soaring eagles of social ambitions or mingle among the eddies of streamlets of quiet and domestic life, whatever sphere you fill, carry into it a holy heart, you will radiate and you will live and power,
and leave behind you holy and beneficent influence.

INFLUENCE.

We are all well-doers or evil-doers.
Every man is a missionary, now and
forever, for good or for evil, whether
he intends it or not. He may be a blot, radiating his dark influence outward to the very circumference of society, or he may be a blessing spreading benedictions over the length and breadth of the world;

but a blank he cannot be. The seed sown in life springs up in harvests of blessings or harvests of sorrow.
Whether our influence be great or small, whether it be for good or evil, it lasts, it lives somewhere, within some limit, and is operative wherever it is. The grave buries the dead dust, but the character walks
the world, and distributes itself as a benediction or a curse among the families of mankind.

The sun sets beyond the distant
hills but the trail of light he leaves
behind him guides the pilgrim to his
distant home. The friend with whom
we took sweet counsel is removed
visibly from the outward eye; but
the lessons that he taught, the grand
sentiments that he uttered, the holy
deeds of generosity by which he was
characterized, the moral lineaments
and likeness of the man still survive
and appear in silence of eventide,
and on the tablets of memory, and
in the light of morn and noon and
dewy eve; and, being dead he yet
speaks eloquently, and in the midst
of us.

and leave behind you holy and ben-
eficent influence.

MARRIAGE IS NOT A FAILURE.

We notice the words so often:
"Marriage is a failure." We do not believe it, and will give a few reasons why we do not. God's plans are never failure, and marriage is one of his prominent commands. Marriage for love brings happiness. The great fault in this day and age is, there are so many loveless marriages.

People marry for fortune, fame and so on; but when for love only true happiness will always be found. We think it is not right for so many married people to say, in the presence of young men and women,
"Marriage is a failure," because two thirds of those who make such a statement do not mean it. Love is the source of true happiness, and marriage the natural consequence.

When a man and woman love each other they know it by the actions,
by the language of the eye and so on.
A proposal is just a form handed down from generations. We believe the engagement should last a reasonable length of time for these are nearer heaven than they will ever be again in the world.

One thing remember, no one is perfect but there are none so blind as those who won't see. Be totally blind to all but the good qualities.

Live for each other. Make your married life one happy dream. We have seen men who look so hard and stern
as though there was not such a thing as being happy, and we would think there is a woman who could bring a smile to his face and tenderness to his eyes. A woman listens for his footsteps, anxiously awaiting for him to come home.

A marriage for anything but love
could not be anything but a failure.
Those who love may be unfortunate in a great many respects, may never be rich in the world's good, but they are rich in love and the greatest pleasure obtainable in this world is in loving some one and doing good.

We often hear persons say there is but one love marriage; that if you love in the first marriage and lose the life companion and a second marriage occurs, that it is for convenience only.
This is a mistake. God gives us the power and the ability to love and if we loved the first companion and lose them, we still possess the ability to love another companion as fervently
as we did the former one.

Watch poor, old grandpa, when she takes a picture from her drawer.
The tears roll down her cheeks and you know she is looking at grandpa's picture. After a while the picture will drop to her lap and grandma will have a far-away look in her eyes and a smile on her face almost angelic. She is dreaming of the happy by-gone days. She would not say marriage was a failure. Or grandpa will tell you so often how grandma used to do, and when he finds that he is growing more feeble each day, he will impress the desire on the minds of his friends to bury him by grandpa and mark his grave with a tomb like hers. He would not say marriage was a failure.

Where there are a thousand happy
marriages that nothing is ever written or talked of, the unhappy one is displayed in print, and hence the remark, "Marriage is a failure,"
when it is not.

We are all well-doers or evil-doers.
Every man is a missionary, now and
forever, for good or for evil, whether

Barbourville a Model School Town.

The question is often asked why Barbourville does not have full schools like many other towns whose surroundings are not so good as ours, and which are not so well located, geographically speaking. We may not be able to give a correct answer to this question, but we have heard a number of people say that it is because of our own selfishness. We are not loyal as we should be to our schools. It seems that our people have buried themselves wholly in their business and have forgotten how to encourage our school people in their efforts. If this town expects to have good and thriving schools, our citizens must show a more kindly spirit in this direction.

A word to the merchants:—Have you ever thought how much it meant to you, to have 500 students come into this town and remain nine months or year? It means that you will sell hundreds of dollars worth of goods which you do not sell now. Then, why not talk up our schools with the people when they come to your place shopping? Help advertise the schools, for it may be that a word spoken by you will bring some boy or girl into our town who would not otherwise come.

Again, if we expect to have students come here we must take care of them by being reasonable in the matter of the Board. Do not expect to get rich off of two or three poor, struggling boys or girls who are striving to get an education. They can not afford to pay as much board as an "oil magnate" or some high salaried officer or salesman. You are not expected to keep them for nothing, but be reasonable and economical, for students, as a rule, do not expect more than what is actually necessary for their comfort.

Let us all do our might to bring life to our colleges, which are now planted in our midst. Tell the people to come to school, and that it will be the best possible investment to send their children to school. There are some people in our town who care for nothing but self, and who do not believe in any sort of improvement so it may be that they will have to die before the most good can be accomplished. There is no good reason why we should not have two up-to-date colleges in this town. If you are not a friend to the one, be so to the other. It matters little which school you help, for it is all for the same common end—the betterment of our citizenship. Union College has got on vantage ground by reason of the large endowment just given to it. Help make it one of the high-class schools of this country. The Barbourville Institute has been favored by the Southern Baptist Convention and placed on a firm basis with a competent man at the head of the Institute in the person of Dr. Rice, of Missouri. Therefore, we earnestly hope that our citizens will awake to their full duty and lend a helping hand to these two worthy institutions. It will help every calling; it will intensify our sweated life; it will speak for us abroad; it will be a work for the common good and an honor and duty to our Creator.

Evangelistic Meeting at the Presbyterian Church.

The meeting at the Presbyterian church opened Sunday, and already gives good promise of success. The Rev. Mr. Lawson, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Henderson, Ky., arrived Tuesday afternoon. He is a man of fine presence and genial bearing, a strong and vigorous preacher, and a man of wide experience. He expresses himself as charmed with Barbourville, and those who have heard him heartily return the good feeling. Mr. Lawson will preach every night for ten nights.

THANKSGIVING

Proclamation Issued by Governor of the State.

Gov. Beckham issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation last Monday.

"Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department: Following the action of the President of the United States, this Thursday November 24, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the Commonwealth of Kentucky, I request upon that day all of our people shall refrain from their business and worldly cares, and by charitable and religious deeds show their gratitude to Almighty God for His many blessings and bounties to us.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed.

"Done at Frankfort, this 14th day of November, 1904, and in the 11th year of the Commonwealth, By the Governor. I. C. W. BECKHAM, "H. V. McChesney, Sec'y of State"

OIL.

There seems to be an increased interest manifested in the oil industry in this field. The production seems to have increased, last week 500 barrels, and during the past few weeks a number of old wells have been put to work. The Hammonds lease, operated by the Richlands Oil Co., is making the greatest amount of oil. The Mayes farm, on which the National Oil and Development Co. has been operating, is making a fair production, the last strike having settled down to an eight barrel.

Tests are under way of some old wells drilled on the Rydner farm three years ago by a Pennsylvania concern, and these wells have a good showing of oil.

This week officials of the Walden Oil and Gas Co., of Elkhart, Ind., visited the field. This concern is operating a number of wells on the McDonald lease, and is planning additional drilling.

The Deacon Oil Co., of New York, will probably drill on the Gibson lease in the near future.

A CARD.

The votes have been cast and counted, and on the face of the returns my opponent, Mr. Buchanan, has been elected by a majority of forty-two. The people have thus signified their choice—though by a small majority. I heartily acquiesce in the action of the people and promise my heartiest support to my late opponent, and ask all my friends to do the same. I have no unkind word for those who opposed me; it was their right to do so. I cannot express my gratitude to each and all of my friends who stood by me in this contest. I trust I will some time have an opportunity of showing my appreciation in a more substantial way to each of you. I know I will never be able to fully repay you for your favors. Thanking you again,

I remain yours for the nominees, W. M. MITCHELL.
